WILL HOLD 1920 CROP. 3 STATES AFFECTED

LEXINGTON, KY., January 7.—No Burley tobacco will be grown in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio during 1921, and tobacco sales floors will remain closed for an indefinite period, of resolutions passed at a meeting of representatives of farmers from all parts of the district here today are carried out. Accredited representatives from 35 out of 58 counties in the Burley district of Kentucky together with men from Indiana and Ohio tobacco raising sections, voted almost unanimously in favor of not planting tobacco this year.

A resolution also was passed asking that tobacco warehouses which have been closed since last Tuesday, remain closed indefinitely and suggesting that May 1 would be ample time for them to open, and that warehouses which had not closed do so at once. This request, according to statements made by leaders of the meeting, includes the hoghead tobacco markets at Louisville and Cincinnati.

A committee of ten was selected to meet this afternoon with bankers and warehouse men to make arrangements for financing the growers during the period of holding the 1920 crop.

Wrangling Of Stars Got On Nerves-He Quits

CHICAGO, January 7.—The resignation of Glau Marinuzzi, operatic conductor and composer, as artistic director of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, was announced today. He will resume his former position as one of the conductors, he said, although Herbert Johnson, executive manager of the company, declared he would not accept the resignation himself, but would submit it to the board of directors. Sig. Marinuzzi was chosen director last year at the suggestion of the late Clifton Campbell, for many years director of the company.

"I could not stand the wrangling of the stars any longer," Sig. Marinuzzi said. "They have given me nothing but sleepless nights. Now I am just a conductor. I will not assign any more roles and when the stars have objected they shall have to speak to Mr. Johnson."

Cardinal Gibbons Improving

BALTIMORE, MD., January 7.—Cardinal Gibbons maintains the improvement which set in this week and he may be allowed to sit up in bed next Sunday if there is no setback, it was stated at the archiepiscopal residence this morning. His physicians note a decided change for the better, it was added.

The cardinal was stricken on December 12, after a service in St. Joseph's church, Emmitsburg. He showed some slight improvement when removed later to his home in Baltimore and seemed very glad to be back among the priests of his household. He was administered the last sacraments on December 31, after which he had several fainting spells.

HUSBAND FORCED TO GIVE UP WIFE AT POINT OF GUN

Compelled To Pay For Couple's Honeymoon

CHICAGO, January 7.—Search for Pierre Paul Authier, missing "Spanish grandee" chemist, of Highland Park, Illinois, and Mrs. Charlotte Franzen, of Madison, Wisconsin, shifted to Philadelphia and other eastern cities, on unusual charges of larceny preferred by the woman's husband, Philip M. Franzen, chief decorator for the University of Wisconsin.

The warrant obtained by Franzen accuses Authier of "stealing Franzen's wife at the point of a pistol and forcing him to hand over $100 to pay for the honeymoon." Franzen says his wife's statements lead him to believe the couple may be in Philadelphia.

On New Year's day Authier disappeared from his home in Highland Park, leaving his wife and baby girl.

When Authier appeared at the Franzen home last Tuesday night, according to Franzen, he declared Mrs. Franzen was the woman he had married thirteen years ago in Australia.

"I have searched for her for ten years," Franzen quotes Authier as saying, while pointing a pistol at Franzen's head, "and now I mean to have her."

Documents waiving claims to each other were signed by Franzen and his wife at Authier's command, Franzen said, and then the visitor stood guard while Mrs. Franzen went out to cash her husband's check for $100.

Franzen says he was resigned to the situation until Wednesday, when he received letters from Mrs. Authier declaring she had been convinced that Mrs. Franzen was trying to steal her husband. He was convinced then, he declared, that he was the victim of a "framed" Enoch Arden plot.

Harding Resents Criticism Of The Public On Reticence, Says It's Inconsistent, Unjust

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, O. C., Jan. 6.—Senator Harding is not unimpressed by the criticism which has been leveled at him from certain quarters for his course in not taking the public into his confidence as to the plan he has in mind for an association of nations to replace the so-called Wilson League.

He has spoken of this criticism to several of his confidants and has characterized it as inconsistent and unjust. President Wilson, it is pointed out, here was bitterly attacked for presenting to the Senate a fixed plan and declaring it could not be modified in any material way.

Senator Harding is not striving for what might be termed a "Harding Association of Nations." While he is said to hold some very definite views on the subject, he is content for the present to keep both the plan and his mind flexible. He will not attempt arbitrarily to dictate to the Senate.

Texans Aroused Over Japs' Plan To Settle On Farm

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, Jan. 7.—Developments were awaited today in the situation created yesterday by the arrival at Harlingen, Texas, of two Japanese families bringing agricultural implements and who proposed to settle on a 282-acre tract of land near Harlingen.

Anti-Japanese feeling at Harlingen was described as intense. The Japanese have been "warned by a committee of citizens and American Legion posts that it would be dangerous for them to settle on the land."

Prohibition Here To Stay "U. S. WILL NEVER BE COUNTRY AS A WHOLE BEHIND THE MOVEMENT LITERALLY DRY"

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 7.—The United States will never be literally dry, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer declared today, though he expressed the opinion prohibition is here to stay.

Sentiment throughout the country, he said, is continually growing stronger for prohibition and practical prohibition will come after the present generation, which is familiar with liquor, is gone, he continued, though there probably always will be some few individuals who will make intoxicants in their homes. The sons and daughters of the men of today, he declared, will grow up without a taste for liquor.

The commissioner declared that despite evidences of law-breaking in some sections, the country as a whole is behind the amendment to the constitution. New York and the east, he said, can not be considered as reflecting the attitude of the country at large, and in general west of Pittsburgh, the country is dry.

Difficulties experienced with prohibition agents were to be expected, he declared, but as a body they were doing their duty. Most of the enforcement agents, Mr. Kramer described as men who could "take a drink in order to carry out their orders," but his best agent, he said, was a Methodist minister.

Murderers Pay Death Penalty In Electric Chair

COLUMBUS, O., January 7.—Two Cleveland murderers paid the penalty for their crimes by death in the electric chair at the Ohio penitentiary early this morning.

They were Joseph Dell, 26, and Robert O'Neil, 28, negro, both convicted of having killed their wives.

Dell was the first taken into the death chamber and executed. He was exceedingly calm and showed no visible excitement. He died at 12:08 P. M.

Shortly before the death party went to its slow procession through the tiers of cell blocks, from which hundreds of prisoners watched with wide eyes, John Dell, a brother of Joseph, appeared at the entrance to the penitentiary and begged in broken English for a few last words with his brother. He was told he was too late.

Harding Wants Congressmen To Agree On Some Plan For New Governmental Department

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—President-elect Harding has asked his friends in the Senate and House who are interested in establishing either a department of public welfare or a department of education to get together and harmonize their views if possible in a single proposal that he can support.

The inside story of the conflicting interests and influences that have come to the front in connection with the new department extends back into the campaign and involves an unfortunate misunderstanding as to the true position of the catholic church which has lately been the subject of a lively discussion in the catholic press.

The whole thing revolves about the establishment of a federal institution to promote and organize the educational facilities of the United States so as to cut down the high percentage of illiterates, to Americanize foreigners, to promote physical education, including health and sanitation, and the training of teachers.

Women Refuse to Support It

During the last campaign, several proposals were made for a department of social welfare or a department of public welfare on the theory that opposition from the catholic elements would thereby be lessened and on the theory that a bureau of education could be put into the department of welfare. But this the league of women voters and other women's organizations have declined to support and the argument is being made that the politicians who are always fearful of How'll You Have Yours, Scrambled, Fried Or Boiled?

CHICAGO, January 7.—The first shipment of eggs received in Chicago from Australia, where the hens operate under opposite weather conditions than those obtaining now in northern United States, was placed on sale here today.

Members of a local butter and egg firm said they found they could sell the eggs slightly cheaper than local receipts and a test had shown only six spoiled eggs in 150 dozens and not one was broken by the long journey. One of the firm, R. L. Elston, said he would endeavor to secure other shipments of the Australian eggs until the hens in this section get back on the job.

MASSILLON, O., January 7.—Five bandits held up the Pennsylvania Railroad Company night ticket agent here early today, knocked him unconscious, stole between $500 and $600 from the cash drawer and escaped in an auto. He does not want any charity, he says, but offers himself body and soul, for one year for $2,500. Firmian was born in St. John, N. B., Canada. He sailed the seas for many years as a far. On one of his trips in 1917 he touched Cleveland and there married during a five-days shore leave. After he served his time in the United States merchant marine, he went to Chicago, taking his wife and child with him, and since that time he has been unable to secure work. Therefore his decision to sell himself.

Attic Of State Capitol Crap Shooters' Roost

CHARLESTON, W. VA., January 7.—That the attic of the state capitol, which was destroyed by fire last Monday, was frequently used by "crapshooters," was the statement today of James J. Geis, chief janitor of the building, who expressed the opinion that the fire was not caused by defective electric wiring.

"Any one could go into the attic at any time," said Geis. "The doors of the capitol were open day and night, and, in spite of the guards, entrance was easy."

State Fire Marshal Horan, who is investigating the fire, said he was not yet ready to make his report, neither was he willing to change his opinion that defective wiring had been the cause.

The state board of control today awarded a contract for a temporary capitol, which is to be built in a month at a cost of $60,000. Meantime, the state officers have taken up quarters in different parts of the city and the business of the commonwealth is proceeding as usual.

Open Break Over Lord Mayor Case

Minister, Thought
Dead, Walks Away
From Meeting

Fain, was given up for dead while attending a minister's meeting at Habersham, Ga., yesterday, and laid out in the church, while his son went to inform the family. Meanwhile the Rev. John Standford arrived at the church, and pointing on the "body" with his knees violently worked the stricken minister's arms. The minister recovered and walked home.

State And Labor Dept's In A Clash

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 7.—Conflict between the state and labor departments over jurisdiction in the case of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan, of Cork, Ireland, seeking admission to the country without passport, reached the open today. The labor department officials denied an earlier statement by Assistant Secretary Merly Smith, of the state department, that the case had been referred by Secretary Wilson to the state department.

UNEMPLOYED IN BRITAIN DEMAND AID FROM TAX PAYERS

LONDON, January 7.—Growing seriousness of the unemployment problem in Great Britain was emphasized today by the action of the unemployed in the city of Norwich in availing themselves of the provisions of the existing poor law and demanding support from the local "guardians." These are the officials who administer relief to the needy, charging the cost upon local taxes.

The "guardians" recently decided not to increase the scale of relief work in Norwich on the ground that the tax payers were unable to afford it, but the chief of police notified them he had received a communication to the effect that if help was not granted, the unemployed had determined to use "direct action." He declared the police did not desire any disturbance of public order, and under this threat the "guardians" yielded and doubled the taxes applicable to feeding the poor. In doing so, the chairman of the "guardians" remarked it was the first time in the history of the city that the police had been over-awed by threats from the unemployed.

The burden thus placed upon the tax payers has caused dismay. The additional taxes will result in a household who pays an annual rent of 60 pounds sterling, paying more than 72 pounds sterling in taxes. The people of Norwich declare it is impossible for them to pay such taxes, as trade is stagnant.

The action of the unemployed at Norwich accords with advice persistently given by labor leaders and followed at many places, though with less serious result than in Norwich.

The Daily Herald, mouth piece of labor, says:

"There is no alternative. The unemployed are determined not to starve, and they have proved that in the poor law they have a weapon to enforce justice. The increased taxes will be distributed by Internal Revenue Commissioners Williams."

DEATH CALLS MRS. MARIA MADDOCK

After living the life of a recluse in her home at the head of Third street for the last twenty three years, death last night at 6:05 o'clock ended the life of solitude of Mrs. Maria Maddock widow of John B. Maddock, the final summons coming after one week's illness. She was found unconscious in a chair in her home at the head of Third street last Friday morning by a neighbor boy, Jack Sperry, aged 11. The boy had been at the Maddock home the night before and had talked with Mrs. Maddock relative to Christmas. He returned the next morning and when he was unable to make anyone hear him he went into the house and found the aged woman unconscious in her favorite chair.

She was in a dangerous condition Friday and Saturday, but Sunday and the early part of this week appeared a little better. She would come out of her state of coma for a few seconds at a time and would recognize the voices of those around her. At no time during her illness was she able to carry on a conversation and she took little nourishment. The last nourishment taken was about midnight Thursday. Her condition took a change for the worse early Friday morning, the attending physician giving up all hopes after he had been called to attend her yesterday morning. Death was caused by pneumonia and general blood weakness.

Doctors and neighbors were unable to find out during her illness whether she had been unconscious Thursday night or Friday morning. When found by the Sperry boy the stove indicated that there had not been any fire the night before and it is thought she was unconscious in the chair all night.

Mrs. Maddock was a woman of very peculiar traits. She had always chosen to live alone since her husband died 22 years ago. Tuesday before she was taken suddenly ill her half brother, Charles Raynor, of Sciotoville, called at the Maddock home and found that she had a bad cough. He wanted to call a physician then but she declined his offer to summon one for her. He then insisted that she let someone come in and stay with her but she also refused to accept this plan, saying that the house was not prepared for anyone else.

The age of Mrs. Maddock will only be found by relatives when they go through early court records or church records. She had always refused to tell friends and even close relatives her age. The nearest she would say was that she was married when she was a young woman. Relatives believe she was between 70 and 75 years of age, on account of the ages of her school mates. Whenever asked by friends concerning her age she would always turn the conversation to something else, dismissing the subject of age with a remark that left the person asking the question as much in the dark as before.

Mrs. Maria H. Maddock was before marriage Maria H. Raynor, daughter of William H. and Mary Kline Raynor. She was born on Washington street near Seventh.

During her young married life she went to live with her parents in the house where she died yesterday. Her father built the house where she chose to spend the remainder of her life. Her parents passed to the Great Beyond before her husband was claimed by death.

The surviving near relatives are her half brother Charles Raynor of Sciotoville, two nieces, Mrs. Mary Nathan, of South Chicago, Ill., and Miss Kate Raynor, of Toledo, and two nephews, Wm. Raynor, of Indiana, and Thomas Raynor, who has not been heard from for years.

Mrs. Maddock leaves an estate worth from $50,000 to $70,000, mostly real estate. She had refused many offers for the property on which the house stands where she died.

In 1914 when a sister in law died in Cincinnati considerable money was found hidden in the aged woman's room. For awhile it was thought she did not have a blood relative and that Mrs. Maddock was the aunt of him, but after a long search a grand niece was found and the small fortune went to her. Charles Raynor, the local man found the money in the room of the Cincinnati relative and assisted in the search for the blood relative.

About a year ago in a search of the Maddock home considerable money was found hidden in many places in the old house. A careful search was made of the premises then, it being feared that someone would break in and ransack the place and steal the money.

The half brother has the power of attorney and has been looking after the Maddock affairs for some months. Mrs. Maddock was a member of the Christ Episcopal church that was at Third and Bond streets. Later her records were transferred to All Saints church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the house at 2 o'clock with burial in Greenlawn cemetery.

COURT HOUSE

Mrs. Hatcher Granted Divorce. Sadie Hatcher, shoeworker, 1211 Fourteenth street, was divorced from John A. Hatcher by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday, the decree being granted on the grounds of cruelty and neglect.

They were married February 26, 1910, and the plaintiff told the court Hatcher had failed and refused to support her and her child, now aged 2 years, and she declared that he had struck and abused her.

Hatcher, who is said to be now living at Springfield, was ordered to pay his wife $5 a week alimony. Attorneys Miller & Seart for the wife.

Continued For Further Evidence. Evidence in the divorce and alimony suit of Josephine Nelson, 1513 Market Road, against Fred Nelson, steelworker, 2310 Stanton avenue, New Boston, was partially heard by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court and then continued for further testimony.

They were married Dec. 24, 1910, and the plaintiff testified that Nelson cursed and beat her and on one occasion last September struck and knocked her down. She declared that the defendant was given the use of intoxicating liquor to excess and her evidence indicated that only at such time did he have alterations. She asserted that his harsh treatment was without just cause or excuse.

Nelson on the witness stand, in his own behalf, denied her charges and accused her of cruelty and infidelity, declaring that she neglected him and their home, refusing to do her housework, and compelled him to cook his own meals.

In urging the couple to reconcile their troubles, the court said it appeared to be a case of too much noise and hope and that the defendant would live in the dark in the future, adding that there would probably be happiness in the home if he would do that.

Attorney L. A. Thompson for the wife and Attorney Blair and Blair for Nelson.

Land Suit Concluded. At the conclusion of the evidence and arguments in the suit of Nellie Hogue Morris against Lewis W. Doty for specific performance of contract to make a deed to a valuable farm in Green township, title to which is involved in the action, Judge Thomas continued the case to give counsel an opportunity to prepare briefs.

While not passing on the case the court at the close indicated in a statement to the attorneys his attitude in the case and that his finding would likely be in favor of the plaintiff. The court declared that the evidence was strongly in favor of the plaintiff being the equitable owner of the tract of 70 acres of land in question and that there is little doubt but what her late uncle, Oliver P. Doty intended to give it to her.

Attorneys Booth and Jenkins, Ironton, for plaintiff and Attorneys A. R. Johnson and O. E. Irish, Ironton, for the defense.

Suit on Account. Suit to recover on a claim of $480.00 with interest from Aug. 25, 1920, for material furnished H. H. Kaps, as subcontractor, was instituted in Common Pleas court Thursday by the New York Architectural Terra Cotta company, through Attorneys Johnson and Stetson and E. C. Miller, against James Pfeiffer, contractor, of this city and his bondsmen, Phelps C. Lott and George E. Krieger.

The material used for was used in the construction of the garfield school building and has never been paid for. Pfeiffer was the general contractor for the construction of the building and he sublet the terra cotta and brick work to Kaps.

BILLY WHISKER

"Clear the room! Clear the room! Everybody out!" rang the cry, after Billy shattered the mirrors in the Laughing Gallery, but small need to issue the command, for those who had come to laugh had departed quickly, as eager to be out and away from the scene of strife as the burly, blue-coated officer was to have them.

"Hi, there, goat!" he shouted and at the summons Billy turned to see the officer bearing swiftly down upon him.

"I know his type too well," was his quick thought, and he wheeled, spied the door, and was out in the open air, now one of the crowd, dodging in and out between the small tents to evade all possible pursuit. Once when the search grew too harassing for comfort, he even took refuge beneath a building which was set on piers. He had to crawl under and lay perfectly flat and quiet, for cruel nails and long slivers of wood from the rough sills caught his coat and caused him exquisite pain whenever he ventured to move.

"I would like to know how the other goat fared," he thought. "Perhaps they've caught him—hope they have. And will punish him—hope they do. He was about the most impudent piece of goathood I've ever met so there!" and Billy wagged his head sagely.

He remained in safe hiding until all grew quiet—no murmur from the passing crowds, no shouts and calls of fakirs hawking their wares. The gloomy part of the day, when darkness falls without a sunset to mark its close, had come ere he poked his head out, cautiously glanced around, and found that in truth, the grounds were deserted. Then he started for the Duke's quarters.

"Don't you think it is the first duty of a guest to be punctual? Especially a dinner guest?" was the Duke of Windham's greeting as Billy knocked on his stall door for admittance.

"And do you think it according to the rules of etiquette for a host to remain his guest's shortcoming in such a fashion as this?" retorted the stolid Billy.

"I've misplaced the key to the door of my house, so you'll have to jump," said the Duke, ignoring Billy's question. "I'm very sorry, but then I know you are an expert at leaping and vaulting, so it will not inconvenience you as it might old Brown, for example."

"Not at all, not at all," returned Billy, and with one light bound he was over and beside the Duke, and they were cordially greeting each other.

"Now, Will-ram, into what mischief have you been this afternoon?" queried the Duke, shaking his head to show his disapproval of any escapade.

"Been on my good behavior all day. I would have you to know—and didn't find it half so dull as I had anticipated."

"Come, come, old fellow, none of that. You might as well confess first as last. There is a suspicious odor over your left ear which wasn't there when you called early this afternoon. Besides, you're all over shavings. There's a story back of it, I'm sure."

(Billy's visit with the Duke is told in tomorrow's story.)

Her Own Career

BY PHYLIS PHILLIPS

THE FIRST KISS

At the sight of her tears, tears shed for him as he well knew, all the love and adoration in his big heart came to the fore, and so Fedya watched Gwendolyn weeping with an intense joy within.

Surely this girl cared for him even though she, in all her virginal purity and coolness, might not realize it herself. Surely, but then, he knew that if this was so, a nature like Gwendolyn's would be all that even his passionate Russian heart could desire, if once aroused. She was the soul of a flame under all that cool exterior of hers, this girl that he loved so. This, he knew, instinctively.

She was stopping a little now, he would comfort her as best he could. "I thank you for those tears, Gwendolyn, my dear," he murmured, as he once more offered his last handkerchief. "It makes me grateful to you for your dear sympathy. But, do not be sad. The picture is lost, to be sure."

The Everland Mission Circle of the First Baptist church will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Sunday school room.

Miss Sara Flaunigan, niece of Dr. Charles Pinner of Boston, was given a handkerchief shower last evening in the home of Miss Tillie Buels on Third street, guests for three tables of five hundred passing a delightful evening over cards. Later luncheon was served at the small tables.

After a visit with his brother and sister-in-law and family of Sunnyside, Mr. William Moore, whose residence has been in Paris and London for the past few years, has gone to Williams to visit with his mother and sisters, Mrs. F. B. Moore, Mrs. John Carpenter and Miss Mary X. Moore.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Cooper are making their home with the bride's mother at 1734 Eleventh street, expecting to occupy their own home in the spring.

Mrs. Martha Oakes was given a surprise Wednesday noon by the fitting loom girls of the Excelsior Shoe Company, where she has been employed for several years. Time, precious time, thrown to the four winds, but I still have my right hand and you your beauty. Together we can do it all over again. That is, of course, if you will help me!"

"Of course I shall, Fedya. Why shouldn't I?" answered Gwendolyn, quickly.

She stood up, and came over to where he stood, and tilted her face a little, the better to see him, in the dim light, as she said, "Anything that will help you, Fedya, I am more than willing to do. We can begin to work again tomorrow, if you like."

A tear still trembled in the corner of her dark eyes, and impulsively, as he felt her vivid face so close to his, Fedya bent over and touched it ever so gently with his lips.

Gwendolyn smiled up sweetly at him as he did so, for she was very sure within herself that this strong Russian would always prove trustworthy. He kissed her tears away, because those tears had been shed in his cause, and he was sentimental. That was all. And she appreciated it.

Fedya remained very silent, looking down at her intensely. In his heart he was wondering if his snow-maiden would melt, were he to once more kiss her eyelids ever so lightly? Of course he would not try this. It was against all the rules of the game, but wonder, he might—and did.

"Good heavens, Fedya, come, I must go home. It is nearly four o'clock. Fedya will be home and worried to death at my absence."

So they walked down to the studio, and Gwendolyn, filled with misgiving, ran up the stairs, only to find that Fedya had not as yet returned, and that the light had been burning in the studio ever since they left. What careless girls they really were!

THE FORGIVENESS OF SINS. Matt. 9:14. If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive.

REV. C. E. SEVERINGHAUS.

Forgiveness of sins sounds like an everyday expression, however, to understand the philosophy of it is not so simple. It is one of the fundamentals of the Christian Religion. Martin Luther was one day overheard while at his studies, lamenting and repenting over and over the exclamation: "My sins! my sins!" His faithful wife approached him and reminded him of the sentence in the Apostles Creed, "I believe in the forgiveness of sins." After this his faith again asserted itself and his heart was comforted. It is a most comforting doctrine for all of us as we all stand under condemnation because of our sins and there is no other way to get rid of them, save through forgiveness. "Could my tears forever flow. Could my zeal no languor know. These for sin could not atone. Then must save and flow alone. In my hand no price I bring. Simply to Thy Cross I cling."

Consider for a few moments the philosophy of forgiveness. Jesus went about healing the bodies of sufferers, but often, as in the case of the paralytic, he first pronounced their sins forgiven, and after that said, take up the bed and walk. The critics immediately took exception to his statement, and said: "Who can forgive sins but God only?" The grace of forgiveness was the greater wonder of the two.

A converted Hindoo one day found himself shoulder to shoulder at the communion table in one of our mission stations, with the murderer of his father. He had sworn vengeance, if ever he had the opportunity, declaring that this man would be a man of death. Before partaking of the elements at the Lord's table, he left the room, and after a little while returned to the communion table. After the service had been ended the missionary asked for an explanation for his leaving the altar as he did. He briefly told the story of his father's death, and his declaration concerning the murderer. Then he said he went out, fought the battle in his own heart, asking what Jesus would have him do under the circumstances. And Jesus having become his Lord and Saviour, he determined to be Christ-like, who when he was being nailed to the ac-

God, who has forgiven so much in us, expects us as the citizens of His kingdom and the recipients of His grace, to have the same mind in us. The natural heart does not find it possible, in its own strength, to carry this out. According to Luke's report 17:35, Jesus said, "If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him, and if he repent forgive him. And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee saying, 'I repent,' thou shalt forgive him. And the Apostles said unto the Lord, 'Increase our faith!'" curse tree prayed for the executioners. "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

So he would rather forgive even the murderer, of his own father than to forfeit his peace and the good will and approval of his Lord. Jas. 5:7: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him: and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon."

Revival At Manly Church

The text of Thursday evening's evangelistic service at Manly church was "Evangelism in Relation to the Life of the Community." The sermon dealing with the antagonism of the forces of good and evil in the world, revealed the lack of aggression and courage on the part of Christian people toward lessening the power of sin in the world.

So far the attendance has been very satisfactory and the individual interest very great. Special music planned for tonight's service.

Opens War On Baby Talk

CHICAGO, January 7.—By cradle-side or by moonlight, Mrs. Evelyn P. Houghton, an instructor to children of defective speech in the grammar schools of Evanston, Illinois, is crusading for the abolishment of "baby talk."

Indulgence by fond parents in the language she outlaws seriously hinders development in their children of good speech, Mrs. Houghton explained at a meeting of the Mothers' Club.

Babies often learn to stutter, stammer and lisp in after life, because of "baby talk," Mrs. Houghton warned. "And," she added, "that goes for grown-ups. They are learning how to impede their speech, and often they learn it too well."

Harding Resents Criticism

what it shall do or shall not do. The whole situation as to the proposed association of nations is flexible so far as the President-elect is concerned. He is willing that everyone should have a hand in the formation of the plan, just as he expects these same people to lend a hand in the adoption of the plan once it is worked out.

The principal reason, Senator Harding has made no public statements respecting his plan, is that he regards it as only a tentative stage. There changes back from time to time and if any of the "best minds" which remain to be heard can offer a better plan, the Senator would not hesitate to support it. To state the plan indefinitely as it now exists might prejudice many persons against it. Whereas, the objections which might arise at this time, probably will be met before a public announcement is made.

As a matter of fact there is no purpose of Senator Harding's mind at this time to make the public until as President he has consulted with the accredited representatives of some of the more important nations of the world.

Matter Will Be Kept Open

The Senator does not want to be placed in the position of saying to the nations of Europe: "This is our plan; come take it or leave it." He feels it would be an act of discourtesy to announce the plan before inviting the nations to assist in the formation of a plan. So the matter is likely to be kept open and indefinite for a long time, and the events of the next few months may have an important bearing upon the form the association finally will take.

The first purpose of the new administration and the new congress to be assembled about the middle of March will be the passage of the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace between this country and Germany and Austria. If this resolution contains, as Senator Harding expects it will, a statement of policy by the United States that the freedom and peace of Europe being again threatened by any power or combination of powers, this country will regard such a situation with grave concern as a menace to its own peace and freedom and if necessary will cooperate with the friends of civilization to remove such a menace. It is felt that the attitude of the United States under the new regime at Washington will be sufficiently understood and that no great haste need be taken in the negotiations looking to the association of nations.

Knox Approves Policy

Senator Knox maintains that such a declaration of policy, accepted and restated by other governments, would form a very definite and sacred association of nations looking to the prevention of wars and the peace of the world.

There is a reason to believe therefore that with the adoption of the Knox resolution and the necessary adjustments with the former central empires growing out of that resolution, a strong effort will be made by certain Senators to convince Senator Harding his campaign promises have been fulfilled and that he can let the international situation rest for an indefinite period of time.

The reaction in Europe to the Knox resolution and its declaration of American policy unquestionably will be awaited by President Harding before he commits himself or the country to a more definite international arrangement.

Harding Wants Congressman

religious prejudices among their constituents have totally exaggerated the position of the Catholics who while anxious to have no legislation enacted which would interfere in the slightest with their control over parochial schools are nevertheless represented as being unwilling to appear before the public as foes of any educational project that has for its object the betterment of Americans without respect to race or religion. Indeed, Cardinal Gibbons himself recently wrote a letter to a friend which took the position that it would be unfortunate indeed if the impression became widespread that the Catholic church opposed the promotion of education by the federal government.

The real trouble arises because of the variety of proposals and the fact that the details of the Smith-Towner Bill which represents the wish of the Educators of the country who are back of the measure as well as the league of women voters have not been widely explained. In the first place, absolutely no control over courses of study or management of schools is given in the bill. All appropriations are distributed by the several states of the Union so that whatever may be the relationship existing in each state between public and parochial schools will be maintained. Furthermore the purpose of the department of education would be to organize facilities and enroll teachers and provide organizations of which the states can take advantage. The National Department of Education will be a clearing house of information for state boards of education and will at the same time stimulate educational processes in the states for the truth is some states of the Union have been woefully lacking in teachers and facilities and without federal aid they would continue to permit illiteracy and poor schools.

Nevertheless, the states will be obliged to contribute dollar for dollar with the federal government so that as in the case of good roads and other projects the combined federal and state energy will make for progress. During the campaign, the effort to create a department of public welfare won friends because it was general in character but several members of Congress who want a department of education say that every part of the ten departments of the government is supposed to have for its object the public welfare and what is desired at present is a department to promote education. Here is the way Mr. Harding expressed himself during the campaign and it is declared by those who have seen him recently that he hasn't changed his view:

Harding's Views

"Indeed, education is so intimately related to every phase of human welfare and to the perpetuation of our free institutions that it must be considered of primary importance in any program for social betterment. So important is education to the life of the nation and so extensive its work that it has been proposed to establish a federal department of education and to conduct research and carry on investigation in the field of education, and to encourage and assist the states and local communities in the promotion of education. The federal government has established the precedent of promoting education. It has made liberal grants of land and money for the establishment and support of colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts, and in more recent years has made appropriations for vocational education and household arts. Without interfering in any way with the control and management of public education by the states, the federal government could extend aid to the states for the promotion of physical education, the Americanization of the foreign born, the eradication of illiteracy, the better training of teachers, and for promoting free educational opportunities for the children of all the people."

It is declared that Mr. Harding has in mind appointing a woman to be the first Secretary of a department of education but legislation will of course be necessary before the new department could be created.

Admit Hotels Should Lead Way On Reduction

CHICAGO, January 7.—Restoration of pre-war rates on rooms and food was declared imperative by members of the Chicago Hotel Men's Association today, following their annual meeting, at which virtually all agreed that hotels should lead the way in readjustment of price levels. Immediate reductions were recommended, although the members were not pledged to a definite plan of concerted action.

Gradual abolition in hotel menus of charges for extras, such as bread and butter and lowering of prices on meat orders in keeping with market conditions, were suggested. It was estimated rates on hotel rooms eventually will be reduced thirty percent.

Negro Removed For Safe Keeping

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., January 7.—Infus Jones, negro, alleged assailant of Mrs. Carrie May Fisher, a white woman, was taken from the Jefferson county jail early today to the Indiana state reformatory, a few blocks distant, after a mob of several hundred persons had gathered around the jail earlier in the night with the avowed intention of lynching him.

Members of the mob came from Union, a nearby village, where Mrs. Fisher lived. It apparently lacked a leader and easily was dispersed by deputy sheriffs.

C. & O. Authorized To Issue Bonds

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 7.—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company was authorized today by the interstate commerce commission to issue $2,000,000 worth of first improvement mortgage bonds and to pledge bonds amounting to $5,750,000 as partial security for a government loan of the same amount.

The Yellow Dog

Number One

Having resumed negotiations with the Councils of the City of Portsmouth and the Village of New Boston for an adjustment in street car fares, we deem it pertinent to inform the people served through the medium of a series of articles in our daily papers as to the cause and the necessity for an increase in rate, also what can reasonably be expected to result should we not be successful in our negotiations.

The average citizen is apt to read these articles with a rather detached unconcern, but it is our desire that all those who do take enough interest in the welfare of our City and Community to read these articles, bear in mind that the fundamental principle of good service is of necessity dependent upon the ability of the Company to earn from the service rendered sufficient return to pay all of its legitimate expenses incurred in the manufacture of the service, to pay its fixed charges, and a reasonable return to the stockholders on the money invested in the property that is necessary to furnish the service.

Without such return it is impossible for any Company to properly conduct its affairs so as to give that service which its patrons have a right to demand.

No other way will it be possible for your Street Railway service to grow and expand with the Community, because it is impossible to finance any betterments or extensions to a property that is already bankrupt, for the reason that no one is ever willing to put their money where it will surely be lost.

The solution of our difficulties can be achieved only when the people come to realize that the public service business is the people's business and that the Company can give them no more than they pay for.

Frustrate Plans To Rob Traction Waiting Station

Caught in the act of attempting to burglarize the lunch room at the traction waiting station at New Boston late Thursday night, two men were fired upon when they were discovered by a clerk, who sleeps in the place and was awakened by the intruders.

An investigation disclosed that the robbers had succeeded in prying open a window and were reaching in to get at the cash register when discovered. The two burglars took to their heels when the two shots rang out and disappeared through the park. The village officers heard the shots hurried to the scene and instituted a search for the bandits but were unsuccessful in finding them.

Ironton Is Tagless; No One Volunteers To Distribute Them

IRONTON, Jan. 7.—The state is having great difficulty in trying to secure an agent here for the distribution of automobile license tags and is likely that this difficulty will make it impossible for Lawrence county auto owners to secure their tags before Monday, which is the last day allowed by the state, according to state legislation. Now for securing the 1921 tags. The license tags have been in Ironton, in the hands of Brook Capper, garage owner, for about ten days, but Mr. Capper has refused to distribute the tags. Efforts have been made to have some responsible person take over the work but these have been fruitless. Bonding houses, building and loan men, garage owners, newspapers and in fact men in almost every line of business have been approached by the state authorities with a request that they distribute the licenses but in each case there has been a firm refusal. The work of distribution is a thankless task at best.

Send In Banquet Cards

Mulholland the man secured to deliver the main address at the annual banquet to be held by the Chamber of Commerce next Thursday evening in the Selby banquet hall. Mr. Mulholland is past president of the Toledo Commerce Club one of the live-wire commercial organizations of the country; also past president of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, and has had wide experience both as an executive and worker in civic bodies. Chamber of Commerce members are urged to send in their banquet return cards no later than Saturday, Jan. 8, so the Banquet Committee may get some line on the number who will attend the annual banquet.

Lamps Shine Downwardly.
A new form of lamp designed in England maintains a long, horizontal beam of light. It is especially useful for the overhead lighting of film studios, or for photo printing.

The Knights of Khorassan will give one of their popular entertainments in the K. of P. hall at 77 o'clock tonight. A program of songs and recitations has been prepared and it will be followed by a dinner. At the close of the banquet dancing will be indulged in. The Dokies have long since acquired the art to entertain and to-night's festivities will be enjoyed by several hundred people.

New Alloy Resists Corrosion.
Possessing the color and appearance of nine-carat gold, a new alloy recently exhibited in England also has the property of resisting corrosion from chemical fumes or sea water. It has the ductility and malleability of its precious counterpart and a tensile strength of 20 tons per square inch. It may be rolled, drawn, wrought or cast.

EARLES' HYPO- COD BUILT UP HER DAUGHTER

Daughter Never Fully Recovered From Illness. Weak and Nervous.

MUCH STRONGER NOW

"My daughter never did get entirely over the 'flu' and was so weak and bad she could not do housework or the lightest kind of tasks about the house. Her appetite was poor and for months she had been that way. She first started taking Hypo-Cod when she read in the paper where someone else feeling just like she did after sickness said this tonic was the best tonic she had bought. A bottle and honestly it is the most wonderful medicine. She now has a splendid appetite and seems to enjoy her meals so. She fills up a great big plate with everything on the table and nothing seems to bother her stomach now. She is much stronger and she declares she feels fine, and the duties about home don't bother her at all," declared Mrs. Elizabeth Moser, 1535 E. 4th Ave., Columbus, O.

If any member of your family is too slowly recovering from sickness or is in a rundown condition and in need of a good tonic—go right down to the drug store and get them a bottle of the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod. In the orange colored carton, with Earle Chemical Co. name on it which is your assurance of quality. Druggists, chemists, and experts assert that it is a most powerful tonic. Try a bottle. Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns—adv.

Sources of Dickens' Names.
It seems surprising that the name of Dickens' characters, odd though they were, should be found in real life; for it was from life that many of them were taken. Some, as is known, were copied from the names of signs over business places; but that was not the novelist's only source of selection. John Forster, his biographer, found among his papers, a carefully drawn list of names, with the sources from which he obtained them. Some of the names are too extravagant for anything but reality: Jolly Stick, Bill Marigold, George Muzzle, William Why, Robert Gospel, Robbin Scrabble, Sarah Goldsacks, Catherine Two, Sophia Doomsday, Rosetta Dust and Sally Gimblett.

A Costly Coat.
In his book on helmets and body armor in modern warfare, Dr. Bashford Dean says: "A shirt of mail in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art contains a quarter of a million handmade and tempered rings, each carefully formed and each separately riveted. If you estimate that a skillful armorer might make and weave together two hundred and fifty of these links a day, you can see that this mail would have cost its maker, working every day, almost three years' work—a low estimate for making this particular mail. If you allow the maker six dollars a day for a thousand days, such a shirt would therefore have cost its purchaser in round figures, at modern prices, six thousand dollars!"

Job Required Two.
"What's the idea of having an assistant treasurer in that small company of yours? Have you got so much money that it takes two of you to 'look after it'?" "No; we have so little it takes two of us to find it!"—Boston Transcript.

Condition to Be Dreaded.
There are worse things than losing money; you can get it back again; but when you go bankrupt on peace and contentment, you are of all men the most miserable.

LUCASVILLE FAIR BOARD ORGANIZES

The directors of The Scioto County Agricultural Association at their annual meeting held at the Court House Thursday afternoon, organized for the year by choosing Lafayette Taylor, of McLeansville, to again head the organization as president and A. E. Moulton, Lucasville, was re-elected as vice-president.

Clayton Kram, treasurer, and Maurice J. Caldwell, secretary, having declined reelection, these spots were left open to be filled at a later meeting. It was voted unanimously to increase the board of directors from 15 to 18 members and Alvin Furdy and Roger Selby and Charles Bradshaw were the new members selected and J. N. Thomas, L. Taylor, A. E. Moulton, Clyde Grant and M. J. Caldwell, whose terms expired, were re-elected. It was decided to hold the annual fair on August 16, 17, 18 and 19, which are the same dates the fair exhibition was held at Lucasville last year. During the business session which followed the balloting, the board discussed plans for many improvements, including a survey made with a view of enlarging the race track to a half mile course and naming a committee composed of A. S. Moulton and Clyde Grant to secure more land close to the fair grounds for parking purposes. It having been fully demonstrated last year that the present grounds are not spacious enough to handle the big crowds, with much of the space taken up in parking vehicles. It was suggested that the committee make an effort to secure the use of the field opposite the fair grounds entrance and in case this land is obtained the board plans to construct an overhead crossing over Scioto Trail at that point.

The annual financial statement of Secretary M. J. Caldwell, which was approved, shows total receipts last year were $15,616.25 and all of which was disbursed, including $2,500 which was spent for new buildings and $1,500 was applied on indebtedness, reducing the association debt to $3,500. The report shows that $1,085.50 was paid by persons to see the fair last year and $3,225 revenue was derived from privilege fees and $1,384.15 represents the sum paid out in race purses.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Estimates that the exportable surplus of wheat in Argentina and Australia would total 2,000,000 bushels had a bearish effect today on the wheat market, opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower, with March 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, and May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, were followed by a material further decline and then something of a rally.
Corn reflected the action of wheat. After opening 3 1/2 to 3 1/4, the market was followed by an additional sag and then recovered somewhat.
The close, nevertheless, was weak, 3 1/2 to 3 1/4 net lower, with May 7 1/2 to 7 3/4, and receiving a little more.
In the provision market, higher quotations on hogs failed to have more than a temporary influence, being soon overbalanced by the weakness of grain.
On the decline, there was export buying, and as a result late pictures showed a little more vigor. The close was unaltered, at 10 1/2 to 1 1/2 net, with March 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4.

Quebec Taken in Daytime

The battle of Quebec was fought in the daytime. At two o'clock the morning of September 13, 1759, the British troops under General Wolfe began crossing the Montmorency river and landing at a point now known as Wolfe's cove. Wolfe, after suffering a repulse more than a month before, had determined upon a desperate expedition of crossing the river and scaling the heights above the town. The French sentinels were surprised, and before the day broke 4,000 men with two guns had climbed the steep heights and were drawn up on the plains of Abraham, about a mile from Quebec. About ten o'clock they were attacked by Montcalm, who had a force equal to the British, but of inferior training. The French then were broken by the British fire. General Wolfe, as he led the charge, was struck three times, the last time in the breast. He was compelled to lie down, and while the pursuit was still on he died.

Beliefs Connected With Arch.

The arch, one of the most beautiful of architectural achievements, was often associated with superstition. In India, in China, in New Zealand, to erect under a brier grown down in the shape of an arch is considered a sure cure for rheumatism, boils, whooping cough, or whatever ails you. A sick child is passed under such an arch. In Borneo, and in New Guinea, passing under an arch is an initiation process observed with much ceremony.

WITCH HAZEL
By CLARISSA MACKIE.
(By 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
Overhead was the sunny California sky—in the foreground was the sandy trail leading gradually up to the blue-green dimness of the mountains. All around him were the plain board bungalows of the town blustering under the noon sun. The veranda of the store and post office was crowded with men clad in flannel shirts and corduroy trousers—brown, weather-worn faces under broad hats—and a score of horses were tied at the long rail fence.
Jim Thornton saw none of these things; all he saw was a girl riding away on a tall black horse—a silken young thing in faded khaki with a sombrero pulled over her red hair.
Nate Miller followed the glance and smiled sympathetically. "That's Hazel Deane," he murmured in a low tone, "you might meet her if you are going up the trail—her father's place is over on the upper trail—Little Boulder, they call it."
"Prospector?" asked Jim.
Nate nodded. "Found the real thing," he muttered. "Some say that it's the only real 'find' heretofore. Most of those fellows," he nodded toward the noisy group on the veranda, "are cattle men—they don't bother with gold mining—too uncertain. Always excepting Pedro—see that greaser sneaking onto his horse—thinks no one sees him—always follows Hazel until she finds him and sends him back like the coyote he is!"

Ecclesiastical Confectionery. It happened in Scotland—and on Sunday, too. A young man, strolling along a village street, went into a confectioner's shop with the intention of purchasing some chocolate creams. "I'll have a chocolate cream on the Sabbath day," said the old lady behind the counter in her sternest tones. "But," protested the youth, "I saw you sell sweets to that lady a moment ago." "Aye," replied the confectioner, "some ecclesiastical confectionery. Ecclesiastical confectionery," she went on to explain, "includes peppermint drops, pan drops and ginger lozenges—but not chocolate cream."

N. & W. Conductors Present Grievances To Railroad Board

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Definitions of rules affecting conductors were involved in four cases presented in the final hearing yesterday before the U. S. railway board in the controversy between Norfolk and Western employees and the railway.

Representatives of the order of conductors asked for a rule on motor cars operated on trains and for a definition of the dead head rule.

Time claims of two conductors, over which there had been controversy were placed before the board and decision asked on the classification of conductors on steamshipvel trains.

Yesterday's session completed the hearings before the board following a strike vote when employees' representatives were unable to adjust their grievances with the company. The labor board assumed jurisdiction over the cases last month and the hearings this week resulted.

GOVERNOR COX AND PRESIDENT WILSON PRAISED BY SENATOR IN HIS ADDRESS

LANCASTER, O., Jan. 6.—Governor Cox and President Wilson were lauded to the skies by United States Senator Pat Harrison last night at the annual Jackson Day dinner of the Fairchild County Democratic Club, at which the senator was the principal speaker.

The recent election, he said, was disappointing but not disastrous. The event was one of the most successful in the history of this famous Democratic organization.

"Senator Harrison said in part: 'Jackson's party, the party of Jefferson, the party of Cleveland and Wilson and Cox is as great today as ever before in its history. It has had its triumphs and its defeats and it will live as long as we have a government of the people, by the people and for the people.'

"The recent election was discouraging but not disheartening; disappointing but not disastrous. We made a great fight for a great cause with a great leader. Ten thousand times would I rather have seen my party go down in defeat under the leadership of a man who had achieved victory on the character of the campaign of misrepresentation employed by our antagonists.

"No Democratic Apology. 'Every alluring price of sophistry that oratory could command, every cunning device that politicians could contrive every fallacious argument that assuages of character could wield, were used by the opposition leaders. They stirred up imaginary grievances and aroused sectional prejudice. They misrepresented everything and everybody connected with this administration. By lavish use of money and despicable methods these leaders organized every discordant element, dissatisfied, discontented, and un-American and tonight throughout this land the Democratic party makes no apology to any class, to any section nor to any element for the issue it presented in that campaign.

"We took the whole world in the face and know that our party made a clean fight on a high plane and for enduring principles.

"Senator Harrison praised the achievements of the six years under a Democratic Administration, pointing to the passage of more measures remedial and progressive in the interests of farmers, laboring men, the women, the children and the legitimate business interests of the country than in fifty years under Republican rule. He said:

"In that period there were no soup houses, no empty dinner pails, no shutting down of factories, no beggars culling at your back door, and no riding of blind baggage. The farmer received his highest prices, the laborer his greatest wage, the business man his greatest profits."

Condemns Tariff Bills. The speaker condemned the Republican emergency tariff law as "unfair and illogical." He said it is what we may expect from a reactionary leadership in the Republican party.

Continuing his argument against the emergency tariff bill, the Senator asserted:

"The bill which has already passed the house and is now pending in the Senate is the grossest piece of hypocrisy ever attempted to be practiced upon the American people. It is a sop thrown to the farmers of the country in order to fool them into believing that an embargo on wool and foodstuffs enumerated will cure the ills with which they are confronted. There never was such a mistaken policy."

The Senator called attention to the depleted gold reserves of European nations, saying that if they purchased from us the only way they can pay us is with their goods. Placing of a tariff embargo will curtail our foreign trade, prevent the payment of foreign indebtedness, embarrass our

BODIES OF HEROES TO ARRIVE IN IRONTON

IRONTON, Jan. 7.—The bodies of three young Lawrence county soldier heroes who died in France will arrive in Ironton today via the N. and W., all being accompanied by military escorts, the bodies having arrived in New York, December 18th, and were shipped from New York early Thursday morning.

The bodies are those of Adam Wilson, Foster Young and Carl Russell.

Cox is Lauded. "A more ideal candidate was never nominated by any political party. The party's defeat was no defeat for him. Any candidate who made the fight that he did, under adverse conditions and exceptional circumstances, will surely hold a high place in the counsels of the party and will always be entitled to a place as one of the real leaders of the world."

I am glad to speak in the great state of Ohio that has given so many distinguished military heroes, jurists, statesmen, but not one in all its history deserves a greater hold upon the affections of the people than our distinguished citizen and Governor, Democracy's leader, Jim Cox."

Everybody's Going to the Strand To-night and Tomorrow, to See the Irresistible Viola Dana in a Real Success, "Dangerous to Men," the Romance of a Fascinating Orphan. Also Comedies and "The Veiled Lady."
"Viola Dana in 'Dangerous to Men'" is announced as the feature attraction at the Strand for a run of two days, beginning tonight. "Dangerous to Men" is an adaptation by A. P. Younger from H. V. Esmond's stage drama, "Eliza Comes to Stay."
It is the most ambitious production of Miss Dana's career and she is said to have found her favorite role as the school girl Eliza, who is thrust at the age of eighteen into a bachelor's household, where, although she has taken every precaution to make herself "safe" from men, she suddenly finds that she has the power to make herself dangerous.
The screen version switches the locale of the story from England to the United States and the adaptation heightens the charm and dramatic intensity of the original play. The role of Eliza tests even the unusual versatility of Miss Dana's varied experience and she is reported to have secured her biggest personal success in it.
If you're looking for a good enjoyable evening, don't miss the Strand. Also Billy West comedy and "The Veiled Mystery."

UNDER NORTHERN LIGHTS

Arctica Tonight. Big Universal Special Feature. "Under Northern Lights." Also a Comedy and News.
For tonight's attraction Mgr. Potts offers a special Universal program of seven reels. Besides the headline feature there will be a reel of news events and a flimsy comedy. "Under Northern Lights" is the title of the feature photoplay in which Virginia Faele, Leonard Clapham and William

A Wild Storm at Sea, a Shipwrecked Yacht, a Thrilling Battle With the Storm-Tossed Waves and then a Safety on a Deserted Island with Him. See "The Torrent" Universal's Latest Picture at the Temple Tonight. "Hoot" Gibson Too, in His Latest Western Thriller.

She married the wrong man, she stood bravely to avoid creating a scandal and then merciful relief came from this bondage when their yacht was shipwrecked and she found herself cast upon a lonely island alone except for the birds and beasts of the forest. The next day an aviator, whose plane is wrecked by bootleggers, who suspect him of being a government agent, lands on the island and together they take up the fight for existence.
"The Torrent," a brief sketch of which has been given above is Universal's very latest attraction, having been released only a week ago, and is a dramatic treat from start to finish, some of the thrilling moments being furnished by the storm at sea, the rescue from the waves, the realistic fight between the heroic aviator and the gang of bootleggers, and the hair-breadth escape of the heroine from the whiskey gang. The leading characters are played by Eva Novak and Jack Perrin. If you want action, it's got it. If you like mystery and suspense, it's full of it. If you want a nice, clean love affair, you'll see it. If you like beautiful photography, it can't be beat, and if you want to see a real enjoyable, peppy picture, don't miss it.
"Hoot" Gibson comes back to us tonight after an absence of several weeks, in his very latest Western comedy-drama and you'll enjoy that, too.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinol, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinol, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinol and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.
When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinol is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—ad.

At the Exhibit Theatre for Tonight, One Night Only, Universal Offers Delightful Edith Roberts in "White Youth," a Picture Play of Life and Love and Laughter—Also "A Trip Through a Movie Studio," Something New and Novel.

A romance of "White Youth," fresh from the original cloisters of an ancient Louisiana school, refreshing in a day of "egg" appetit and unwholesome and morbid melodrama, is the reticent Edith Roberts comes to the Exhibit Theatre tonight.

It is a story of a girl who didn't object to having a husband thrust upon her—saying "Pouff! Husbands happen to everyone!" of a bright young man who is an expert mechanician when such things as safes and locks are concerned—all within the law; of an old Creole gentleman whose stock of old wines is his priceless possession; of a thial rone, survivor of three wives, who is willing to take a fourth if the dewy is large enough.

These characters and many quaint types have been woven by Clara Beranger and Forrest Halsey into a story of rare charm and humor.
Picturesque bits of old and modern New Orleans, rural Louisiana, stately mansions and quaint villages were reproduced in detail for "White Youth," and hundreds of players were used in some of the scenes.

An unusual added feature tonight will be "A Trip Through a Movie Studio," something new and something you have never seen before. You will thoroughly enjoy it.

We grind your corn into feed meal. No waiting or handling of sacks. T. Jewett and Son.

HOMESPUN FOLKS
All Star Cast with Lloyd Hughes
Written by Julien Josephson
A HEART-DRAMA OF 10,000 SMALL TOWNS AND 60,000,000 PLAIN PEOPLE
ASSOCIATED PRODUCERS, INC.

Extraordinary Engagement at The Eastland Theatre Starting Tonight for Two Nights the Famous Thos. H. Ince, the Screen's Foremost Producer, Presents "Homespun Folks," A Mother Story That Tells The Greatest Target in all the World—The Human Heart—A Successor to "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East." You Can't Miss It.
Tears vie with smiles in the story of "Homespun Folks." Thomas H. Ince's tremendous triumph for the Associated Producers, Inc., which will be shown at the Eastland theatre tonight. Perhaps in no American-made photoplay of recent years has there been such a vast wealth of appeal, combining human interest, comedy and melodrama. The new Ince picture contains heart throbs, romance and pathos, in addition to numerous comedy touches.

It tells of a country lawyer's fight against crooked politics and as a modern picture of small town life holds the mirror truthfully to the real thing. These are the real lights of "Homespun Folks"—its realism, its simple honesty. The characters are real, the plot is a story of human people and the direction is chock full of master touches.

Lloyd Hughes is the young district attorney with a conscience, making a definite step upward in his career, breadth and scope being apparent in his characterization.
In presenting for its patrons "Homespun Folks," the management of the Eastland has given it its unlimited endorsement to the production in its entirety. Your early attendance will be greatly appreciated. There will be no advance in admission prices for this engagement.

FEARED SHE HAD HEART TROUBLE

"Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine, and I don't hesitate to recommend it to any one suffering like I did before taking it," declared Mrs. L. C. Albain, of 1675 Indiana Ave., Toledo.

"I had been in poor health for six years and gradually got worse until I became so bad off I almost suffered a general breakdown. Nothing I ate seemed to digest properly but caused awful pains in my stomach. I would float until I could hardly get my breath and my heart palpitated so dreadfully I feared I had heart trouble. I was worried constantly with pains across my back in the region of my kidneys and when I got up mornings I could hardly straighten up. My housework was a burden to me and I simply felt miserable."

"Some of my friends" took Tanlac with such splendid results that I began taking it myself, and I'm certainly glad that I did for it has made me feel like an entirely different person. Although I've only taken two bottles of the medicine so far, my stomach doesn't bother me, and those awful pains have all disappeared from my back. My housework is a real pleasure to me now, and I sleep like a child every night. I'm going to take Tanlac a while longer to make sure of my good health, and I just can't speak highly enough of the medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy and the leading druggists in every town.—Ad.

Most Important Legal Suit From Standpoint Of Government Finances In A Decade

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 7.—Arguments were begun today in the supreme court in the "invested capital" case characterized by Solicitor General Frierson as "the most important legal suit from the standpoint of government finances in a decade." Whether the government will be forced to return hundreds of millions of dollars paid as income taxes depends on the outcome.

The immediate cause at issue before the court is the appeal of the Laclede Iron Works, of Steubenville, Ohio, from a ruling of the bureau of internal revenue, refusing to allow it to treat as invested capital the value of ore lands which it had purchased in 1904 for $190,000 and which by 1917 had increased to $10,000,000. The government agents maintained that the increase in reality was "profit" and should be taxed as such. The company added the increase to its capital invested and claimed the normal deduction of 7 percent, paying under protest the additional tax of $1,081,000.

The question of whether a stock dividend is taxable arose in a new form in the present case, the increased value of the ore lands having been represented on the books of the corporation, according to the government's brief, since 1912 by stock issued as a stock dividend.

The wide interest displayed in the case in the business world was illustrated by the number of requests for permission to appear as "friends of the court." Those granted permission to file briefs included the Long Bell Lumber Co., of Kansas City; the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, and the Kansas City Structural Steel Co.

Increased value of the ore lands is comparable to the increase which occurs in the value of a herd of cattle

These photos of King Constantine, Greece and his interesting family were taken on their departure from Lucerne, Switzerland, for Athens. The two princesses in the lower photo were photographed leaning from the window of the railroad coach. Constantine was recalled after three years of exile, with his family, in Switzerland. Princess Helene, it is rumored, is engaged to a Roumanian prince. Constantine's hardest task to win the confidence of the allies.

GROWERS YELLED "ROBBERS," TOBACCO SALES ARE HALTED

MANCHESTER, Jan. 7.—After Auctioneer Harry Gray knocked off a few baskets of tobacco at a low price at the West Union Loose Leaf Warehouse Thursday, a bunch of growers from Jefferson township yelled "Robbers." The excitement rapidly spread, the crowd filled the warehouse and several tried to address them. The sales were stopped, the house closed and the growers called a meeting in the court house yard.

Attorney Turnipseed acted as chairman. Former Treasurer Jones, cashier McManis and Attorney Turnipseed were appointed to go to Lexington to report the matter and present terms that will permit further sales.

The West Union house probably has 100,000 pounds ready for sale. The Peebles house will not attempt a sale until the report of this committee.

No Word From Airmen Since Starting Home

Crew of Naval Balloon A-598—Lieutenant Walter Hinton, Bell Harbor, New York; Lieutenant Stephen A. Farrell, New York City, and Lieutenant Louis A. Kloor, Jr., New Orleans. Left Rockaway, N. Y., Dec. 13. Landed near Moose Factory, Ontario, Dec. 14.

Distance traveled by balloon, approximately 800 miles.

Reached Moose Factory, Dec. 18.

The men wandered in the snow-bound forests, nearly four days before they were found by an Indian hunter.

COCHRANE, ONT., January 7.—Scouting parties, composed of veteran trappers, Indians and newspaper correspondents, today were pushing along various circuitous trails northward in the hope of intercepting the three United States naval lieutenants, who are trekking back to civilization from Moose Factory, where they landed December 14, after a hazardous flight from Rockaway, N. Y.

Lack of actual knowledge of the aeronaut's progress and impatience to hear first-hand the narrative of their thrilling drift through stormy clouds, and of their heroic battle against cold and starvation after landing, led the scouting squads to follow up their several speculations regarding the route chosen by the officers' Indian guides.

It was generally agreed here today, that barring unforeseen trouble, the balloonists should arrive tonight at either Clute, Mattice or Cochrane.

HERRICK, LOWDEN AND MUNSEY MAY BE AMBASSADORS UNDER HARDING REGIME

Among the most important appointments made by Harding are those of the ambassadors to foreign countries. Probable elimination of Frank O. Lowden as a cabinet possibility has caused political experts to link his name with the post of ambassador to Great Britain. Former ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick, may be returned to that post, 'tis rumored. Frank A. Munsey is talked of as ambassador to Italy.

Senate Probes Conditions In Cuba

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 7.—Conditions in Cuba, which already are receiving the attention of President Wilson and the state department, have been engaging senate study, and it is possible that the senate committee on Cuban committee relations will visit the island at once.

Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, has suggested the step to Senator Johnson, of California, chairman of the committee, and a session of the committee will be called immediately to consider the matter.

Senators McCormick, Republican, Illinois; Underwood, Democrat, Alabama; and Dial, Democrat, South Carolina, are the other members of the committee.

Frank Horn and Dorothy Taylor, a well known Wakefield couple, were married in Waverly this week.

Thousands Are Nervous Wrecks From Weak, Thin Watery Blood

Cross, Crabbed and Care-worn without ever suspecting the real cause of their trouble—Iron starvation.

A New York Physician says that MORE THAN ONE-HALF THE POPULATION OF AMERICA PERISHES BEFORE MIDDLE AGE and that one of the chief contributory causes of this terrible waste of human life is the devastating weakness brought on by lack of iron in the blood.

THERE ARE 10,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nerves, headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., when the real cause of all their suffering is IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD.

The proof of this is shown by the fact that when organic iron is supplied to the blood, that all their multitude of ailments quickly disappear and the very men and women who were formerly so complaining now become strong, healthy and vigorous, with eyes shining and a sunny, cheerful nature.

Nature put plenty of iron in the husks of grains and the skin and pods of vegetables and fruits to enrich your blood, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase, in recent years, in anemia—iron starvation of the blood, with all its attendant ills.

If you are not willing to go back to nature then you should eat more such iron-containing vegetables as spinach and carrots and eat them by taking a little organic iron from time to time. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron.

and is therefore an entirely different thing from your blood and like the iron in spinach and apples. It may be had from your drugist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly condensed form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It's like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD—GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

NEW DANCE FROCK RECALLS THE PAST

There may be many new styles in frocks and gowns, but this most unusual and dainty dance frock is not one of them. The fashion experts decree that the dress is the height of fashion and so it is. But way back in the days when our forefathers were fighting for our independence the women of that period were wearing such frocks. This one for Miss 1921 is made of flowered taffeta, and old lace and the bodice is trimmed with black velvet lacina.

James G. Scripps, Publisher, Dies In California

NEW YORK, January 7.—James G. Scripps, publisher, and managing director of several newspaper organizations, is dead at his home at Miramar, near San Diego, California, the United Press announced here today.

Mr. Scripps, who was 34 years old, was one of the youngest newspaper publishers in the United States. For twelve years he had been managing director of Scripps papers, the Newspaper Enterprise Association and allied newspaper organizations.

His death at 1:30 o'clock this morning resulted from complications following an attack of influenza about a month ago.

Mr. Scripps was born at West Chester, Ohio, a suburb of Cincinnati, and went to San Diego with his parents when six years old. He resided there since that time.

Surviving him are his parents and a brother.

Construction Placed On "Corrupt Practices" Act Makes It A Trap,—Charles E. Hughes

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 7.—The broad construction placed upon the corrupt practices act by the federal court in Michigan in which Senator Truman H. Newberry was convicted, "makes it a trap which would take in every senator and representative in congress today," Charles E. Hughes, of counsel for Newberry, declared in opening argument before the supreme court in the senator's appeal from his conviction on a charge of conspiracy to violate the corrupt practices act.

The construction given by the presiding judge was a "gross perversion of the statute," Mr. Hughes declared, and he promised to give the court examples "in abundance" to show the enormity of this conviction.

BLOOD KILLS DISEASE GERMS

Pure, Healthy Blood Destroys Germs, Removes the Waste Tissues and Rebuilds Bone and Muscle

If Your Blood Is Weak, Don't Delay

Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the Red Blood Builder

"In your body are two gallons (more or less) of blood, which is constantly at work keeping your system free of germs removing the waste tissues, and building up new strength in bone and muscle.

This blood must be healthy or your resistance to disease and fatigue will be lowered, you will lose weight and both body and mind will have less vigor.

For building up blood weakened by overwork, illness or other causes, Gude's Pepto-Mangan, for years prescribed by physicians, is now generally known as a prompt and harmless tonic.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan soon produces marked beneficial results. The tired, worn-out, run-down feeling disappears. And in its stead a vigorous wholesomeness and happiness proves that the blood has been supplied with the sorely needed richness to supply the entire system with renewed strength.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan at your drugist's be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. You can get it in either liquid or tablet form. If the name "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

The Martyred Abbess.
A terrible incident was the origin of the ghost which haunts St. Oystin's priory, England. In the year 653 a band of Danes ravaged the neighboring country. Attaching the monastery they led the young abbess into a wood and ordered her to worship their gods. She refused, and in spite of their efforts to terrify her into submission, the brave woman remained faithful to her creed. In a fury, the leader of the band ordered her to lay her head down to be cut off. Obeying, her head was immediately severed from her body. On one night every year the abbess revisits the scene of her martyrdom, carrying her head in her hands.

Sun's Effect on Glass Palace.

It has been found impossible to give accurate dimensions of the Crystal palace, London, because of the contraction the building undergoes during the day. In the case of the palace, the approximate length of the main structure of which is 1,302 feet, a measurement taken at noon would exceed the dimension which would be given on a measurement in the evening, when the "contraction" consequent upon the absence of heat, as the result of the sun having set, would have taken place. The difference at times amounts to as much as six inches.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH, SAYS CORONER

Coroner Dr. J. D. Hendrickson, on his return from Arion, announced a verdict of "accidental death" in the case of William Kerr who was killed by the branch of a falling tree Tuesday. The man's skull was fractured and his shoulder and collar-bone broken. Kerr was a cousin of L. S. Kerr of Front and Washington streets.

Primitive East Indian Dancing.
In native Hindu dances virtually every muscle of the body is in some way brought into play. There is a good deal of pantomime used, rather the opposite to the foreigner, and few of the professional dancers appear to have had the training necessary to give real rhythm of motion.

CHILlicothe FIVE HERE TONIGHT

Doll and Schirrmann forwards, Ogier center, Miller and Deer guards will undoubtedly be the way the P. H. S. basketball team will take the floor tonight against the Chillicothe high school quintet. This contest to start at 8 o'clock will be the opening game of the high school basketball season for 1921.

The team was put through a stiff workout with the second team Thursday afternoon and this afternoon the regulars were put through a short signal practice.

Big crowds are expected on hand this year and for this reason seats have been placed on the sidelines the new bleachers to seat several hundred fans. By arranging seats in tiers it is hoped to provide room for several hundred more fans, many having been unable to get near enough to watch the game at all times.

The admission tonight will be 50 cents for outsiders and 35 cents for P. H. S. students.

Masonic League Tied

The men in the Masonic League were tied in a double howl last evening when the Auroras took two out of three from the Wholesalers, who, it was thought would wax fat off the Leach lads. They won the first game with apparent ease and looked to be in for a big night, but the Auroras, who fight all the time, refused to weaken and with back backs to the wall fought the Wholesalers off their feet, winning the second game by the narrow margin of five pins. The third game was close but not so exciting as the sandwich game. Jesse Roberts, expert at setter on the Daily Times, was the real bowler of the evening, gathering a total of 506 pins. He was the only man of the evening that shot as many as 500. Captain Leach came thru with 488 and Captain Crickson with next with 472. Charles Dauber helped to win the last game for the Auroras by his score of 168. He missed the two first games and had to almost break a leg to get there in time for the third stanza.

PENNY ANTE

ZOWIE! $300,000 AND FOUR PLAYERS OFFERED FOR HORNSBY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 7.—Another new record has been created in the history of baseball finance by the report from Houston, Texas, quoting Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, as stating the club has received a bonafide offer of $300,000 and four players for Roger Hornsby.

This figure more than doubles the reported purchase price given by the New York Yankees for "Babe" Ruth in a deal which was conceded to put a record value on a player's services, and is just twice the size of the offer made by the New York Nationals for Hornsby early last season.

In connection with the statement, President Brantley, of the Cardinals, asserted the club wouldn't sell the second baseman "for a million." Concurrently with this offer, it was reported Hornsby was to figure in a five team trade between Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis, but Cardinal officials asserted no proposition of this nature was being considered.

ATLANTIC CITY TO GET $5,000,000 STADIUM

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 7.—Atlantic City will have a $5,000,000, athletic stadium, it was learned here today when word of the incorporation of the National Stadium, Inc., for that amount at Baltimore became known. The incorporators will hold a meeting here Monday to elect officers. It is hoped to complete the structure within two years and it was said that the promoters hope to obtain athletic events of national and international importance, including the Olympic championships and the army-navy football games.

A feature of the stadium will be a one mile automobile racing track.

BASKETBALL TICKETS ARE ON SALE

Season tickets for the high school basketball games were placed on sale Friday morning at the school. They call for ten games and maybe more at home. The price for the season ticket is $2.50 to outsiders, $1.75 to members of high school athletic association and $2 to high school students not members of the association.

Dr. Today's task was. The best way to make sure of tomorrow's strength, is to put our whole strength into the task of today.—B. H. Hoveis

Warm Games Looked For

A pair of hotly contested basketball games will be on the program at the Sciotoville high school gym Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock, when the girls and boys' teams of Sciotoville play the girls' and boys' basketball fives of fronton.

The games promise to be exciting from the first sound of the whistle until play is over, for all four teams are evenly matched. These games will be the first of the new year and the Sciotoville teams are determined to start the year by taking both games.

The Sciotoville girls will use the following players: Moore, Purdy, Kent, Halstead, Alexander, Walden and Duvendack.

The boys' team will be selected from the following: Brown, Courtney, Powell, Edwards, Brock, Whittens and Stedman. An admission of 25 cents will be charged.

Tonight, the Sciotoville boys play the Wheelersburg boys at Wheelersburg.

About Venetian Glass

Across the lagoon from Venice is Murano, the little island birthplace of Venetian glass. Like a great many "objects of art" its manufacture commenced in the Middle Ages and developed its full glory during the Renaissance. In 1291 certain Italian glass makers took out a register of nobility, or "libro d'oro," and formed a guild which very carefully guarded the secret process of manufacturing Venetian glass. About the fifteenth century colored Venetian glass won fame, and in the next century lace patterns and mirrors were created. Plain glass was also enameled and gilded when made into bric-a-brac. Later variegated or marbled glasses were produced.

Oh Shucks, Rude Men Beat Girls In Bowling Contest

The match games rolled by a men's team from the Selby Bowling League and a girl's team from the same factory Thursday night resulted in a three game victory for the men the girls falling just a few pins short in their last two games, the men taking the first game by a good margin. The men won the second game by 8 pins and the third game by 13 pins. The game was not the only feature for the evening for J. Sheppard entertained with fancy dancing every time he made a strike and that was "pretty" often. The high score of the evening was hung up by Kress anchor roller for the girls. The scores:

Chicago Books Denver Team

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—An inter-sectional football game next fall between the University of Chicago and the University of Denver at Chicago, October 29, was announced today by Coach Alonzo Slagg, of Chicago.

The preceding Saturday the Chicago team is scheduled to oppose Princeton at Princeton.

Colorado asked for a game. Coach Slagg said, and he assigned them the only open date on the Chicago schedule.

Real Lightweights To Clash

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Pinky Mitchell, Milwaukee light-weight boxer, brother of Itzhak Mitchell, will make his eastern debut here tonight in a 15 round bout with Willie Jackson of this city. Both light-weights agreed to weigh within the 135 pound limit at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

How About It Mr. Kilbane?

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 7.—Johnny Kilbane may have all the purse, if he will only meet Danny Frush, the local aspirant for the feather-weight crown, which the Cleveland boxer has held so long, so Frush's manager declared today.

Furthermore, he said he will give $1,000 to any charity the New York newspapers may name if Kilbane or Young Andy Chudley, who is being generally mentioned as the logical contender for the championship, will step into a New York ring for a 15 round decision bout.

This deal is issued because both Kilbane and Chudley have turned down flattering offers from fight promoters, east and west, for a go with Frush, the Baltimorean, asserts.

THE STREET RAILWAY

Today's Times is begun a series of advertisements by the Portsmouth Street Railway & Light Company, explaining to the public the condition of the property, why it is in straits that impel them to ask for an increased fare. The advertisements will tell their own story, frankly and fully, and we think every citizen interested in the welfare of the town should carefully read and digest the information advanced. We are all interested in good street railway service, and in seeing it maintained. We all know too that public utilities, similar to the Street Railway Company, have been having a hard battle to keep a-going.

Watch this series of advertisements. Study them. And then form your own conclusion as to what is best for the city in general in its dealings with the problem presented.

PROGRESS ON THE SEA

WHEN the wind whistles we think of the sea. Sailors risk their lives in storms in a continuous caravan of ships, bearing the freights of commerce that help to make our lives easy and pleasant. Progress has helped the sailor. All the devices of man become puny when a hurricane sweeps across the prow, as happened to the Belgian steamer Menapier in mid-Atlantic on a recent voyage.

The distressed ship, bound from New Orleans for Antwerp, sent out an S. O. S. call for medical aid. Many of the crew had bones broken and were generally battered up. The Windfredian, riding the same storm 100 miles away, picked up the message. An American physician, ship's doctor on the Windfredian, sat with the operator while for three days the wireless sputtered details of the men's injuries and the physician dictated methods of treatment. The boats at length were within hailing distance, but because of the heavy sea the doctor could not be transferred to the Menapier.

On the fourth day the wind subsided, and this message came: "All your instructions safely carried out. The men are resting easily and are out of danger."

Science and progress registered another triumph.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

It would be a far cry to say that the country looks upon Bois Penrose with anything like admiration, or would expect him to be its saviour in any degree, yet, it is a fact, that in something of a crisis he becomes the dominant factor in guarding it against the frantic folly of his party associates in the senate.

These gentlemen, stampeded by a hue and cry for rescue by a class are fomenting legislation, confessedly of makeshift and in principle altogether vicious. There seemed every assurance it would be negated on the already debilitated law system when Senator Penrose, leaving his home where he had been seriously invalidated for many months, appeared in Washington and gave emphatic proclamation that it must and would be killed. There is no reasonable doubt his ultimatum will operate. The matter goes to the committee of which he is chairman and he has already maneuvered it into his, a position where it is as good as dead.

All of which again proves that you can never tell what is going to happen.

IT ALL DEPENDS

THE Ohio assembly has entered upon an entirely novel procedure in legislation.

In addition to the regularly established committees it has created a new one that instantly became known as the sifting committee. In theory its province is well designed, its duty being to winnow out and throw aside all bills in duplicate, inconsequential in matter and corrupt in origin.

The value, however, of the committee depends upon the industry, honesty, courage and intelligence of its membership. If these be of the right character and action the new device will be of inestimable value in expediting legislation and enhancing its quality.

Legislation too often is not taken seriously. Committees are too frequently one or two men affairs. Some one or a combination determines to make out a report of a certain character, others indifferently sign that report and the measure goes to its fate of weal or without any diagnosis of its merits or demerits.

Wherefore the new system commends itself in that while it may be better than the old there is no possibility of it being worse. For if the member who proposed certain legislation is not satisfied with the verdict of the sifting committee he can contest its summary slaughter on the floor of the house and making worthy summary can have it committed to the regular committee to which it will be sent if the sifters give it their approval.

Art Triumphs In The Theater

By Frederic J. Hasbick

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 7.—As night after night the New York Theater Guild continues to place above its box office window a sign reading "Sold Out," a surprising truth is becoming more and more self-evident. Namely, that the average theater-goer is just as eager to spend his money to see a good play as a bad one.

The play which the guild is now presenting to such crowded houses is Bernard Shaw's "Heartbreak House." It is unquestionably of the "highbrow" type, beloved in Broadway theatrical circles to be so fatal to the success of the box office. Furthermore, it is not the only play of high artistic merit which is drawing capacity houses here this season. There are at least six others, including "The Moh" and "The Skin Game," both by John Galsworthy; "Samson and Delilah" by the Danish playwright, Sven Lange; "The Woman of Bronze" by Henri Kistner; "The Name is Woman," which is Karl Schmitt's "The Wish-fulfiller," and "Mixed Marriage," St. John Ervine's latest contribution.

Incredible as it may seem, the public is clearly and regularly registering a loud hurrah for art. Either it has suddenly changed its mind about what it likes on the stage, or all along the big theatrical producers have been wrong. For years, they have been perfectly sure of what the people wanted to see in the theater. "We know what you want," they told us. "You want to be entertained, soothed, tickled, shocked, uplifted and excited, but you do not want to be made to think. Most of the plays we give you are bad, but that's why they succeed."

The fact that on an average of 60 per cent of these sure-fire hits have failed miserably a month or so after their production has had no effect on this theory concerning the tastes of the public. The fact that literally millions of Americans are now converted in community dramatic clubs, where they learn to distinguish good plays from bad ones, has likewise made no impression in commercial theatrical circles. Still, there is hope. The men at the head of the theater industry have not much faith in the intelligence of the public, but they have infinite faith in the cash receipts of the box office. And this season is conclusively demonstrating that art is triumphing over twin beds, lingerie, spirit raps, Let-X-Equal-the-Murderer Equations, and the usual quota of feeble musical comedies.

The Theater Guild

In great measure, it is believed, this sudden rise and popularity of well-written dramas is due to the work of the New York Theater Guild. For in producing Ervine's "John Ferguson" the guild first proved to the New York theatrical world that a play might be good and at the same time a commercial success. In other words, they showed the public that it really was capable of appreciating something good if it got the chance.

The immediate result was that several Broadway producers were compelled to go hastily through their desks and bring forth one or two of the untried or more excellent plays that had been lying there moldering for months, and to consider producing them. It was a risky venture, however, so when "The Jest" was put on to compete with the artistic fame of "John Ferguson," it contained the two safely popular Barrymores, Lionel and John—enough to carry almost any play in New York—while Ethel Barrymore was put in Zoe Atkins' play, "De-classe," because it, too, was considered risky on account of its unhappy ending. Later Lionel Barrymore was transferred to the Briens play, "The Red Robe," given the American title of "The Letter of the Law," and Elsie Ferguson was temporarily snatched from the movies to appear in Arnold Bennett's dramatization of his "Book of Cerinthus."

All of these plays proving successful, the producers are taking bigger chances this season, which accounts for the unusually large number of good plays to be seen. The big producers, you see, cannot afford to have the Theater Guild get away with all the dramatic art laurels, because the guild is the one small but important competitor of the organized labor industry.

Since the actors' strike, it is no secret that the theater industry is completely controlled by an association of producers and managers, who own all of the principal theaters throughout the country and hence virtually control all of the players. For while you may be an extremely popular star, you cannot get people to come and see you unless you hire a theater, and the only way you can hire a theater in a good location in any fair-sized city is through this managers' and producers' association.

Fighting the Trust

Years ago, when these associated producers first began buying up all of the available theaters, a few well-known actors and actresses, including Francis Wilson, Joseph Jefferson and Mrs. Fiske, attempted to fight the enterprise with an independent actors' association of their own, but it was not successful. These three, of course, could afford to be independent because people would have come to see them had they appeared in a tent on a vacant lot, but few others in the actors' association were so fortunate.

And the producers and managers did not fight back. They merely offered the more important of the rebels very fat contracts, so that before long they were only three or four rebels left.

This early lesson had such a discouraging effect upon rebellious players that no attempt was made to dispute the complete domination of the producers' association until the Theater Guild suddenly came to life two years ago. The guild was not formed to combat the theater trust. It has no such ambitious idea. It hopes to get along quite peacefully with that organization. But it does want to be independent, because it wants to produce the kind of plays its members respect—the kind of plays that are an inspiration rather than an ordeal to the acting profession.

All of its members are not players; some of them are scenic artists, authors or producers, who have won high reputations in the commercial theater. But all of them share in the financial interests of the guild, and each one has one vote in deciding its affairs. In other words, it is a true co-operative society, with drama instead of groceries as its product. Each of the members working in the production is paid a living wage and each of them receives a certain percentage of the box office receipts, according to the value of his or her part—the important characters receiving more than the smaller parts. It is the only society of its kind in the world today, although its prototype may be found among the various players' societies of Queen Elizabeth's time, including one in which William Shakespeare was a shareholder.

Guild's Struggles

When the Theater Guild organized, its bank account contained just $300. This, it decided, without salaries, would be enough to produce a play, but not enough to pay for a theater. Fortunately Mr. Otto Kahn, who had a lease on the Garrick Theater, the little old-fashioned playhouse on Thirty-Fifth street, just off Broadway, became interested in the Guild's purpose and donated the theater to them for six weeks. If they made good they could pay him a rental, he said, and if they failed he would not charge them anything.

Well, at first, it looked as if Mr. Kahn would be out a good deal of money. The first play produced, Benavente's "Bonds of Interest," failed, possibly because it was one of those fatal vehicles, a costume play, or possibly because it received practically no advertising. The guild could not afford to advertise, and so few people knew that the play was in existence.

Undiscouraged, but a trifle desperate, the committee on plays and management, which meets every Tuesday, met every day and tried to find a new play to take the place of the Benavente failure. This early committee included Laurence Langner, Philip Moeller, Rollo Peters, Helen Westley, Helen Freeman, Margaret Wyckoff, Dudley Diggs and Lee Simonson, art director for the Metropolitan Opera House.

It was Laurence Langner who finally brought the committee the play it wanted. One afternoon he was in Brentano's, feverishly going over the plays on the bookshelves, when he came across "John Ferguson" by St. John Ervine.

"Ervine," mused Langner. "I used to know that chap. Used to be on that debating society I attended in London. Awfully clever, as I recall...."

A week later, Mr. Ervine in London was surprised to receive a cable from the New York Theater Guild asking for his play. As he explained later, Mr. Ervine had never heard of the Theater Guild, and he could not remember Mr. Langner, but he decided that as his play had failed conspicuously in London, he would not be greatly hurt, if it failed in New York, and so he cabled back his acceptance.

This time the Guild managed to do some advertising, and on the opening night it had every prominent dramatic critic in New York in its audience. As a result, the next morning every paper contained a glowing account of "John Ferguson," with frequent references to the splendid courage of the guild in this supporting art in the face of certain financial ruin. This, while gratifying, was not encouraging. Hence, it was with serious misgiving that the players approached the theater on the second night, but there they encountered a delightful shock. For the line before the box office reached all the way down Thirty-Fifth street and around the block.

And so began the success of art in the New York Theater.

Igloo Has Advantage

An igloo is perhaps the best example of a house that conforms to the surroundings to be found the wide world over. They say the igloo is rather cramped for room, but on the other hand the high cost of living can have little effect on the price of "building materials" within the arctic circle. And to the explorer the glimpse of an ice hut through a gathering storm must seem more inspiring than a hundred boulevards to a city dweller.

TEWFIK PASHA

Tewfik Pasha, foreign minister of Turkey in the reign of Sultan Abdul Hamid and grand vizier when the Young Turks assumed control of the government, had been invited to bring his skill and experience to the aid of the present Turkish government. He has consented to emerge from his retirement for that purpose and to form a new cabinet on condition that the selection of ministers be left wholly to himself. That condition will probably be accepted for the country is in desperate straits politically, from which it can be relieved only by a master hand. The career of Tewfik Pasha is as remarkable as that of any living Turk.

Abdul Hamid found him the only firm support among his advisers. He sent him successively as ambassador to Great Britain and to Germany about twenty years ago, and his adroit diplomacy then saved Turkey from the penalties of anti-foreign acts which threatened a state of war in which not only Europe but also the United States might have joined against Turkey, as American interests were involved in the hostile demonstrations.

When Abdul Hamid was deposed and the Young Turks dethroned his life, Tewfik Pasha brought about the Sultan's removal to Salonica, where he spent the remainder of his life a virtual prisoner, but in safety. The revolutionists appreciated the value of Tewfik Pasha's services and they made him their grand vizier, although he had been intimately identified with the fortunes of the deposed Sultan. He guided the policies of the new regime with rare intelligence and discretion and won recognition for the revolutionists in all the capitals of the world.

A Pad Poem

The girl was thin, her case was sad. Of course the daisies had to pad.

She padded here, she padded there. But only made the neighbors stare.

For fashion with its merry quips Was always shifting waists and hips.

She padded wrong, as things befell, And now she's in a padded cell.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: There's something pathetic about a grown man in a cart driven by a poor boy. All the Fifth Avenue children have ponies. And they cost more to keep than an automobile. Wonder how much those men make a night letting pedestrians look at the heavens through a telescope? Delaysia, the French actress. She parades with a shepherd's crook and an anklet watch. They say all the clerks in Tiffany's now carry guns. That cop rolled at me for jay-walking. And my face is crimson. Russell's East Side boys playing on the library wall. That shop advertiser's paper suits. If I bought one it would be my luck to get caught in a shower. Even pianos are being marked down. The older I get the more I crave an open fire-place and detest dancing.

A bunch of film actors. Just arrived in New York to make "Western Scenes." The only way to escape the icy winds these days is to become a stevedore. Not such heavy lines as the movie ticket window. Those dogs are on their way to the Bide-a-Wee Home. Poor little friendless fellows. A heavily veiled woman always gives an impression of mystery. And maybe she has just come from a beauty doctor.

Other call this block Musical Flat. Most of the musicians in the theatre orchestras live here. I wouldn't want an office overlooking Broadway. Especially during the short skirt craze. The crime wave is so fierce that detectives are acting as butlers in the homes of the rich. There goes Arnold Daly with a suitcase on coat.

It is tragic to see so many stooped old men shuffling home from work. Their eyes lack lustre and their faces are expressionless. Dusk is a picturesque hour. The clatter of restaurant dishes whets the appetite. Pity the poor fellows who have to walk around Central Park on a horse before they show enthusiasm for food. I could even eat cauliflower.

A hard working editor decided to spend Christmas in his old fashioned town in the middle west. There was a log fire, apples and sweet cider and he took with him some rare books he wanted to read. He decided not to do any visiting. For three days he lolled about before the blazing log in his pajamas and house robe. He left off his cigarettes and took up his pipe. The fourth day he was in telephonic communication with the office and on the sixth day he was started for home. His explanation was: "It can't be done!" All of which is not very lucid.

George Ade, who came on from Indiana the other week to be the guest of honor at the Lotus Club dinner, told of a young man from a small village paying his first visit to New York. When he got back home he was relating his experiences to the crowd at the store.

He said he was standing in Times Square one afternoon just watching the crowds and finally got to watching the pigeons fluttering around the Times Building. A very authoritative person stepping up, bristling with importance, and said: "What are you doing here?"

"Nothing just standing around," was the reply. "Well, you're doing something—what is it? I want to know," and he threw back his coat lapel revealing a badge.

"I was just watching the people and counting the pigeons," the people said.

There was a half snore. "So you were counting the pigeons were you. Well how many did you count, speak up! It will cost you a dollar for each one."

"Seventeen"—and then he added to the crowd: "But I really counted 20."
